NOTHING TO CHANGE BRITISH POLICY OF REMAINING NEUTRAL

Stanley Baldwin Declares Breaches of Agreement For Non-Intervention in Spain of Little Importance—Communism and Fascism Insignificant in Britain—Defends Portugal

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P).—Prime Minister Baldwin declared in the House of Commons tonight there had been some breaches of the Spanish non-intervention agreement on both sides, but they were not of sufficient importance to cause a change in British policy.

In his first appearance since his illness, the Prime Minister wound up the debate.

"The general impression the Government has formed," he said, "is that there have been some breaches, and arms have been sent to both sides. But they have not been nearly sufficiently important to cause us to modify our policy in regard to non-intervention."

HUMANITARIAN EFFORTS

Since the end of August, the Prime Minister continued, the Government had furthered its humanitarian efforts in Spain. Its first appeal was rejected by the Spanish Government and consequently was not submitted to the Burgos insurgent authorities. Since then Britain had pursued action alone with a fair measure of success.

The diplomatic corps jointly and the British charge d'affaires at Madrid had privately made representations to the Spanish Government to check the mounting toll of Continued on Page 2, Column 3

STRIKE CALLED ON WEST COAST

U.S. Labor Official Informed Long-Threatened Walk-out to Take Place

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29 (P).—Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady announced tonight he had been informed marine union leaders had decided to call a strike at midnight affecting all the Pacific Coast's 37,000 maritime union workers.

McGrady said he had been informed of the strike call by F. M. Kelly, secretary of the joint union negotiating committee, which met tonight to discuss the threatened strike action.

STRIKE AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Oct. 29 (P).—P. B. Gill, business agent for the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, said tonight union officials in San Francisco telephoned him to order members of the union on strike in this port in conformance with a decision by the joint maritime union negotiating committee.

"We are sending out orders now for the men to strike," Gill said.

HEAR BROADCAST FROM CLEAR SKY

DODDER, Alta., Oct. 29 (P).—Mysterious music that "came out of a clear sky" today baffled four road workers near this village, about forty miles southeast of Edmonton. They said it was a radio programme from Edmonton, but there were no receiving sets "for five miles around" where they were working.

One Man Killed and Six Others Injured in New Jersey—Main Line Blocked

PRINCETON JUNCTION, N.J., Oct. 29 (P).—One man was decapitated and at least six others injured tonight when the Cleveland, crack Pennsylvania Railroad flyer, was wrecked here, blocking the railroad's four-track main line. Ten of the thirteen cars, mostly sleeping cars, left the track.

The train broke between the seventh and eighth cars and the engine, traveling at seventy-five miles an hour, dived across the forward seven cars almost a mile.

The man killed was riding in the seventh car, which was dragged on its side and crushed.

Reorganization Of Militia Will Be on New Basis

Machine Gun Companies to Be Incorporated in Battalions—Tanks Will Play Larger Part—Artillery Units to Be Strengthened—Question of Seniority Causing Worry

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P).—Reorganization of the non-permanent active militia is expected to be completed about the beginning of December; and from the first of that month all units in the eleven military districts will be on the new basis. This was learned at defence headquarters today.

On the broader aspects of national defence, the much-discussed proposals for an increased navy and substantial enlargement of the Royal Canadian Air Force, officials are reticent. Dispatches from abroad, representing Prime Minister Mackenzie King as returning to Canada with details of a new defence scheme, based on a co-ordinated Empire policy, drew from them no comment.

NO AIRPLANES ORDERED HERE

LONDON, Oct. 29 (P-Havas).—The Government has placed no orders abroad for foreign-built planes, Sir Philip Sassoon, under-secretary for air, said in answer to a question in the House of Commons today.

Oliver Simmonds, Conservative, honorary secretary of the parliamentary air committee, put the question. After inquiring whether the Government intended to purchase planes manufactured abroad, he asked if any orders had already been placed for foreign-built planes, aside from those bought for experimental use.

Sir Philip Sassoon said no planes had been purchased abroad. He explained, however, the Government had made inquiries from time to time toward ascertaining a possible foreign source of supplies to assure in case of emergency.

It had previously been reported the Government had purchased 300 planes from the Canadian branch of an American firm.

Los Angeles Experiences Sharp Quake

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29 (P).—Distinct earthquake shock was felt in portions of Los Angeles this afternoon, at 2:35 p.m. P.S.T. The seismological laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, at Pasadena, described it as "a small earthquake, strong enough to be felt but not strong enough to cause any damage."

The epicentre, said Dr. C. F. Richter, was "not far away" from Pasadena.

GUAM, Oct. 30 (P).—An earthquake of unusual intensity shook this Pacific island at 4:40 a.m. today, at a slightly damaged some buildings. No one was hurt.

Cyclone Cuts Narrow Path Of Destruction Through R.C.A.F. Buildings

COLLAPSING BRICK WALL TRAPS MEN

TRENTON, Ont., Oct. 29 (P).—A score of workmen were injured, one critically, when a seventy-mile-an-hour twister screamed over the Royal Canadian Air Force airport a mile from here today.

Albert Hagerman, Trenton, is in Belleville Hospital with terrible head injuries. He is not expected to survive. Harman Young, Belleville; William Labadie, Windsor, Ont.; Simon Keegan, Harold Covert, Gerald Goodwin and George Rosenplot, all of Trenton, are also in Belleville Hospital less seriously hurt.

IN LONG NARROW STRIP

Damage in the cyclone was confined almost entirely to the airport grounds in a strip of seventy-five yards wide and a mile and a quarter long.

Every tree and post in the storm area was leveled and all buildings damaged extensively. Damage is estimated at $15,000.

The storehouse, boiler-room, southern wall of No. 3 hangar, cook-house and parts of the administration building were leveled. No aircraft were damaged.

UNTANGLING WRECKAGE

Telephone emergency crews were working tonight to untangle the wreckage of poles and wires in the mile long stretch.

There are about 1,500 men of the R.C.A.F. stationed at the airport, according to Wing Commander C. B. Johnson, in charge.

All the injured are believed to be men working on a construction job at the airport. They were caught between a collapsing brick wall and the scaffolding on which they had been working. At least twenty required medical attention.

RELATE STORY OF COOL NERVE

Court Told How Bandit Gang Attempted to Crack Safe on Street

WALKERTON, Ont., Oct. 29 (P).—The cool nerve of a bandit gang that hauled a safe from a warehouse in Walkerton and attempted to crack it open on the street while an armed guard paraded up and down was revealed here as the trial of Melville Campbell and Marjorie Constable proceeded.

Residents of the Bruce Peninsula fishing town told a jury, under Mr. Justice J. C. MacKay, how they were awakened by the shattering of glass in the early morning of July 27 and saw the safe wheeled into the street.

MOTHER IN STORK RACE LOSES BABY

TORONTO, Oct. 29 (P).—Interest in the Millar will baby race shamed somewhat in one home tonight. Baby Blanche, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Timleck, died in the hospital for sick children tonight after having been critically ill for more than a week. Mrs. Timleck is one of the leading contenders in the "stork derby."

Baby Blanche's death will not hurt her mother's chances in the strange contest, as no provision had been made in Charles Vance Millar's odd will that children of the winning mother must be living at the end of the ten-year period which ends Saturday at 4:30 p.m.

REPORTED RECEIPT OF NEW MUNITIONS HELPING LOYALISTS

Reinforcement With Tanks and Airplanes Spurs
Spanish Government Troops to Counter-Attack
Reported to Result in Recapture of Three Strategic Towns

MADRID, Oct. 29 (AP).—Spurred by reported reinforcement with "tanks and aviation," Socialist infantrymen smashed at Fascist lines south of Madrid, the War Ministry declared tonight. The Government counter-attack against an insurgent siege of the capital resulted in recapture of three strategic towns in the beleaguered sector, Socialist officials claimed.

(Government reports were not confirmed by advice from the Fascist side of the lines where the forces of Gen. Jose Varela were declared to be organizing for the "final push" against Madrid. A weak Socialist attack near Chapinera, twenty-five miles west of the capital, was repulsed, the insurgent high command declared.)

A RAPID ADVANCE

Beginning at dawn in response to a militant proclamation by Premier Francisco Largo Caballero, Socialist militiamen advanced rapidly southward along the Madrid-Toledo Highway, retaking Torrejon de la Calzada and Torrejon de Velasco.

East of the high road, other forces drove Fascist troops from Sesena, just west of the Madrid-Aranjuez road and approximately twenty-two miles south of the capital.

The Havana News Agency reported Government troops had recaptured the Madrid-Aranjuez railway, restoring rail communication between the capital and Valencia on the east coast.

"STRENGTH EXHAUSTED"
"Fascist bands which have been approaching Madrid have already exhausted their strength, and while they are disintegrating, our forces are becoming stronger every day," declared Largo Caballero.

"We now have tanks and aviation which are important arms to pursue and destroy the enemy, but we need also the courage of the valiant militia and the complete will to conquer."

The Socialist Premier did not elaborate his assertion of receipt of new war materials. Observers, however, recalled Italian charges before the London Neutrality Committee that Soviet Russia had sent tanks, planes and men to the assistance of the Madrid Government.

FASCIST STATEMENT
Fascist spokesmen pushed ahead into Humana de Madrid, a small settlement about ten miles southwest of the capital, the high command asserted. Other columns massed between El Cerro de Los Angeles, Hills of the Angels, and Pinto on the Madrid-Aranjuez Highway.

"Now is the time to think of digging up your garden for the winter," many men are turning it over in their minds.

Spanish Loyalists on Canadian Tour

NOTHING TO CHANGE POLICY OF BRITAIN

private assassinations and to secure the posting of reliable guards in the prisons. The Minister of State had given assurances that the murders would be stopped and good results of the appeal had been immediately noticeable.

INSIGNIFICANT IN BRITAIN
Mr. Baldwin then began to discuss Communism and Fascism.

"Thank God, as far as Britain is concerned, these two forces are not worth that," he declared, snapping his fingers.

The difference between democracies and autocracies, he said, was that the former advertised its troubles to the world.

"Under authoritarianism," he added, "we have to guess their troubles. Our system is the healthier, notwithstanding incidents like the Nuffield controversy, where the differences were broadcast exaggeratedly in authoritarian states."

Attacking Communism, the Prime Minister said it will neither brook, understand nor allow any fact that clashes with what it wants to believe. Moreover, he declared, it breeds Fascism.

WAR NOT INEVITABLE
Mr. Baldwin referred to the suggestion that Germany might attack Britain. He said that was not where the danger was coming from. He refused to regard war as inevitable. Every month gained for peace, he concluded, was a gain on the right side of what the Government was working for.

In the course of the debate, the Labor and Liberal spokesmen, Arthur Greenwood and Sir Archibald Sinclair, respectively, both demanded to know what was happening in the Balearic Islands, where the Italians were said to be securing control.

Greenwood said Gibraltar was smiling on the Spanish Fascists and rebuffing the Government. Sinclair declared the Spanish Fascists could not have succeeded without Italian assistance, which must have been arranged beforehand. Arguing in favor of continuance of the non-intervention pact, Sinclair said that for every gun France and Britain might supply Italy and Germany might supply Italy.

DEFENDS PORTUGAL
Launching the debate, Foreign Secretary R. B. Bennett defended the Portuguese Government against Russian charges of Spanish neutrality violation.

"Not a single one of the Soviet charges against the Portuguese Government has been proved," he told the House of Commons as it reassembled after the summer recess.

"There is no first-hand evidence available that the Portuguese Government is breaking its agreement," Eden asserted. Great Britain would hold fast to the non-intervention pact, despite opposition from Labor groups.

Turning to face Labor leaders who have pressed for direct aid, he declared:

"What you are asking is that the French and our own Government, who worked all through the weeks of August and September to try to get the committee going, should destroy what has been done, and when they had destroyed it, Soviet Russia would be left master of the field."

BELIEVES IN POLICY
"The Government has no intention of lending itself to anything of this kind. The mere fact that all nations still are members of the committee only shows that Europe believes this (non-intervention) policy is the right policy to pursue."

"It is easy enough for anybody to say now 'This arrangement is helping one side more than another.' But our purposes in non-intervention were not to help one side or the other, but to prevent the civil war—savagery in itself—from passing the boundaries of Spain and involving the whole of Europe."

A SAFETY CURTAIN
Reviewing the history of the non-intervention committee, Eden termed it "an improvised safety curtain."

"Great Britain and France—must employ in order to forestall international recriminations and maybe war."

Eden further asserted the Government had no intention of establishing a permanent precedent in setting up the committee, and said the move had been initiated by France under no pressure from Great Britain.

A storm of protest arose when William Gallacher, Communist, declared "I wouldn't believe Eden on a stack of Bibles," referring to the Foreign Secretary's assertion France initiated the initiative in the non-intervention pact.

Gallacher continued his speech with a violent attack on Joachim von Ribbentrop, newly-appointed German Ambassador to London.

England "with his hands red with murder, and I demand this man, who is not an ambassador, but an agent for war, should be driven out of this country."

Warning Labor members not to "out-Soviet the Soviet," Eden said the pact had not, as has been charged, worked to the advantage of the insurgents against the loyalist-constituted Spanish Government.

BETTER EQUIPPED
The Fascist insurgents, he said, were simply better equipped and trained for the civil war than their foes, and asserted if there had not been a non-intervention pact, sympathetic Germany and Italy could have aided the insurgents much more expeditiously than could Great Britain and France have helped Madrid.

The opposition demand that the Government permit British sale of arms to Spain was led by Arthur Greenwood, Labor, front-bencher.

Half a dozen Labor leaders then took the floor in vigorous denunciations of the Government's stand.

TOY SHOP WILL OPERATE AGAIN

Boy Scouts Will Repair Toys
For Children of Needy
Here

Approximately 12,000 toys for distribution among the little tots of needy families at Christmas time will be sought by the Toy Shop which will be conducted by the Victoria Boy Scouts. The canvass for playthings is scheduled to commence November 9.

William R. Bardsley, who is the chairman of the shop, will co-operate with E. G. Snowden, in charge of the City Clothing Department, to collect old clothes to help families in need of wearing apparel during the winter months. Others on the committee are May Phillips, Mrs. Brock, C. R. Scarff, E. Merritt, G. Sherman, G. Kirchin, L. Young, P. Salmon, William O. Findlay and Freeman King.

Mrs. P. A. W. Perry and her volunteers will look after the distribution of clothes.

It is planned to divide the city into sections with scouts in the various areas being responsible for collections. Negotiations are also under way to obtain headquarters where scouts and volunteer workers can handle the toys which are expected to be received.

P. Salmon will undertake to inform the scoutmasters in the various districts where to collect toys. The scoutmasters in turn will relay the messages to their members. The telephone numbers for distribution of clothes are G 6994, G 3296 and G 4432.

TEMPLE DISPUTE ENDS IN COURT

Series of Police Court Trials
Follow Trouble Among
East Indians

An assault case in which two East Indian brothers, Hajara Singh and Katar Singh, are charged with having struck Bara Singh at the Sikh Temple, leaving marks upon his body, is one of three trials before Magistrate H. C. Hall in the city police court, all connected with an incident which took place at the Sikh Temple on the afternoon of October 4.

It was stated in evidence yesterday that Bara Singh did not observe the practice of partaking of the sacred food when the occasion arose at the temple on Sunday, October 4. This it was stated, was a practice that was always followed and a breach of the observance was most noticeable. The allegation was that when Bara Singh was asked why he did not partake, he offered as an excuse that the priest had some time before made insulting remarks to him.

ASSAULT CHARGED
An uproar occurred and it was then that the assault was alleged to have taken place in connection with the ejection of the offender from the temple. In their evidence, the two accused testified that they did not use undue force in inducing the informant to leave. They denied that they struck him. The hearing will be continued this morning.

W. P. Lawson appeared for the prosecution, with R. C. Lowe for the defence.

The other two cases to be heard include one in which the two defendants in the case now before the court charge Bara Singh with having used disgusting language and another charge laid against Bara Singh of having disturbed a religious assembly in the temple. In the latter case, Gordon Cameron will appear for the temple association.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP).—MacKay Radio reported tonight the S. S. Scanyork, of the Scandinavian-American Lines had intercepted an SOS from Myconos, a freighter of Greek ownership, which reported her in distress ten miles off Ushant, France.

The Myconos is of 1,802 tons gross, and is operated from Piraeus, Athens, by the Balkans & Near East Shipping Agency.

A later message received by MacKay from the radio station at Ushant, stated lifeboats from that place were proceeding to the assistance of the Myconos.

"The police have been unable to find you at your address," said the Kingston magistrate's clerk to a defendant.

The man replied—"I don't suppose they could, because I was in prison at the time."

Lady's Dress
In the House

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP).—Parliamentary history will be made Tuesday when a woman, for the first time, will move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. She will be Miss Florence Horsburgh, the senior member for Dundee.

The problem is what she shall wear. It is customary for the mover and seconder of the address to wear court dress or uniform. As peeresses and others present at the opening of Parliament customarily wear evening dress, it is possible Miss Horsburgh will follow their example.

MOLLISON REPORTED OVER WEST IRELAND

If it was Mollison, he shattered all records for the Atlantic crossing. He would have flown from Newfoundland to Ireland in the remarkable time of nine hours twenty-five minutes.

This sensational speed created some doubt whether the plane was Mollison's, but it was pointed out there are no commercial planes flying in the Atlantic region. The Briton left Harbor Grace at 12:40 p.m. P.S.T. Thursday. His plane is capable of 250 miles an hour.

When he reaches London, he hopes to rest a few days and then speed on towards Cape Town, South Africa, in an attempt to establish a new record for the flight.

PREVIOUS CROSSINGS
Mollison's previous trans-Atlantic ventures took him from Portmarnock, Irish Free State, to Pennfield Ridge, N.B., in August of 1932; from Penzance, Wales, to Bridgetown, Barbados, in July, 1933; and from Thies, Senegal, to Natal, Brazil, on the southern route.

His 1932 flight established him as the first solo flyer to make the crossing from East to West, considered

House Hears Reports On Toll of Riots in Palestine and India

Twenty-Eight British Soldiers and Police Slain in Holy Land Disturbances—Sixty Persons Killed in Bombay Rioting

LONDON, Oct. 29 (CP-Havas).—Twenty-eight British soldiers and police were among the 309 persons slain during Palestine's many months of disorders, which came to an end two weeks ago, Colonial Secretary William Ormsby-Gore informed the House of Commons today.

Persons wounded in the disorders during the last two months numbered 1,182, he said. Now that comparative calm has been restored, the royal commission of inquiry will proceed to the Holy Land to investigate the source of Arab-Jewish unrest, and British garrisons in the country will be reduced, he added.

R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for India, said in reply to a question that sixty persons were killed and 500 wounded in the recent Bombay Moslem-Hindu riots, which he described as "essentially communal" in character.

PALESTINE POPULATION
Ormsby-Gore, discussing the Palestine situation, said the mandated territory now had a total population of 1,335,000, including 848,000 Moslems, 270,000 Jews, 106,000 Christians and 11,000 of other creeds and races. The Arab general strike ended October 12, and the royal commission will sail within the next two days, the Colonial Secretary said.

other expenditures in Vancouver city, the member for Lillooet, commented that he said was the extravagance of building a million-dollar city hall, and more recent plans to develop Kitsilano property as a $2,000,000 playground on borrowed money, and gave plain warning that unless the city council would turn out to work as a cheap labor on the railways, and now, he said, arrested for vagrancy in Coast towns.

WOULD EXTRACT SPEAKER
Paying a warm tribute to Mr. Speaker Perry, Mr. Connell suggested the speakership be removed from politics and become a non-effective seat after a speaker had been chosen.

While he made no direct reference to the despised group of three C.C.F. members in the Legislature, Mr. Connell said pointedly that capital was a necessary element of production, and could never be dispensed with in any system of economy. He pictured the day, however, when Socialism would infiltrate the present system to such an extent that would in reality have taken over the administration of the country.

The Leader of the Opposition was given a courteous, attentive hearing, and a burst of desk-thumping from most sides of the House at the close of his address.

MINING BRINGS HOPE
George M. Murray (Lib., Lillooet) carried to the House something of the faith and optimism of the upper country riders, where mining is bringing about a new lease of life for hundreds of men and women dependent on them. He praised the Government for aggressive development of mining trails this year, and pleaded for a continuation of this work. Primary industries of the province would lift British Columbia out of the depression if given a chance, he declared.

CRAFTSMANSHIP MUCH ADMIRER

Many Beautiful Examples of Needlecraft and Plastic Arts in Exhibition

Much interest continues to be shown in the annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society being held this week at Coast Hall, 1414 Douglas Street.

The crafts, convened this year by Mrs. G. P. Napier, are well placed, and of wide variety. One of the handsomest and most commented upon pieces is a large hand-hooked rag rug, in diaper pattern, the handwork of Mrs. Hudson, who is in her eightieth year.

The Craft Studio, 950 Fort Street, has a good collection of artistic pieces, including attractive celophane evening bags, hand-tooled leather cigarette case, hand-tooled leather purse, woven scarfs, and three or four most life-like crocheted woolly lambs and dogs that would make ideal Christmas gifts for children.

Any Adamson has several attractive calendars done by wood block printing on silk; Miss Oldfield has an applique fire-screen. Mrs. Napier shows two examples of her exclusive petit point, chair-seats of Queen Anne period design.

OTHER NEEDLECRAFT
Other examples of fine needlecraft include the embroidered picture, "The Postilion," which, it seems, was discovered in a collection of discarded in a basement, and when cleaned, proved to be a most exquisite sample of Dutch "needle-painting." Miss Alice Ravenhill's collection of purses, bags and other embroidered articles using the B.C. Coast Indian design, and worked out in her own designs, a careful of small needlework pictures, entered by Miss Turner; an embroidered panel done by Mrs. B. S. Hartley; and Mrs. M. J. Stewart's petit point panel. Miss D. Blankenbach's crocheted tablecloth should be mentioned in connection with the crafts, as should also the collection of hand-woven bags done by a clever fourteen-year-old girl, Jennifer Hobbs, and Miss Houlgate's very finely crocheted pieces which closely resemble Rumanian work.

In addition to the big hooked rug mentioned above, there are several others, all well worth examination; one by Mrs. G. P. Napier, with a beautiful coloring of flowers in cheerful artistic colors, and another by Mrs. Luke Lattip, another by Mrs. Luke Lattip.

POTTERY AND FIBER
Pottery holds an important place in the crafts section of the exhibition, among those who have hand-some examples of fine glass and unglazed types being Miss C. Lottian M. M. Grose, Margaret Grupe, G. Snider, Addie Greenwood, and Mrs. McMorran. Some very beautiful colorings are shown, and the big flower bowls and jardiniere are particularly attractive.

Col. C. B. Schreber's collection of local agates, opals, and Australian opals attracted much notice, calling attention again to the wealth of beautiful coloring that lies hidden in the rough grey and green pebbles that strew the local beaches.

There are several fine screens, including one of Chinese design, in the panel. The approach of Christmas is heralded in the showing of a few samples of greeting cards, one lot being by Kythe Macenzie, another by Mrs. Knight. The collection of beaded copper in the exhibition is by Mrs. K. Barlow, who has three or four attractive pieces.

Artistically fine work on a heroic scale and distinguished by boldness of line and boldness of expression is the sculptured head of an Indian, called "Spirit of the Plains." The work of a newcomer, Mrs. Lillian Sanders, who learned her craft in London, this occupies a conspicuous place in the centre of the hall, but would show to better advantage if turned to face the length of the room.

some twenty acres of ground, ratepayers declared at a meeting last night.

Some ratepayers said their lands were inundated every year and their stock had to stand for hours in several feet of water, "because of improper drainage in Ward One and Ward Three." Straightening of the creek bed and enlarging of the culvert would remedy the situation, they claimed.

Councillor John Watson, Ward One, and Councillor A. G. Lambright, Ward Three, were present and promised to support the delegation.

1937 MODELS NOW SHOWING

Murray A. Biggar, of Hudson Motors, Reports Increases in Car Sales

Introducing the 1937 models of the Hudson Motors of Canada Limited, Murray A. Biggar, Tilbury, Ont., assistant general sales manager, paid Victoria a visit yesterday. He was accompanied by F. J. Green, Tilbury, field service supervisor; Sidney Allen, Calgary, regional manager for Western Canada; A. W. Carter, Vancouver, of A. W. Carter Limited, Hudson-Terraplane distributors for British Columbia; and Harry Pilling, of A. W. Carter Limited, general service manager for the Province.

They called on Robert J. Jameson, of Jameson Motors Limited, Vancouver Island distributors for Hudson and Terraplane cars, and the technicians gave complete technical information to the local servicing departments regarding the new models.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS
These 1937 models are larger—with more head room, leg room and have wider bodies than last year's models. Many technical improvements have been incorporated. The motors are reported as being 10 per cent more economical in operation. The self-selecting automatic gear shift is a great improvement over the previous one. Many new conveniences are also embodied in the new cars.

Mr. Biggar, yesterday, said that with the improvement in general conditions in Canada, the motor industry expected an increase in sales of at least 25 per cent over last year.

"For Hudson Motors, we are actually figuring on a 35 per cent increase over 1936," he reported. He was pleased with the better tone of business throughout Canada.

Sales of Hudson and Terraplane automobiles in British Columbia for this year were 22 per cent over 1935 sales. Mr. Carter stated this record compared very favorably with other provinces in Canada.

May Aid Inspector—In one of four bills presented by message in the Legislature yesterday, the Government is preparing to separate the title of director of apprentices from that of inspector of apprentices. While official explanation is yet awaited, the amendment to the statute probably contemplates some addition to the present staff of the apprenticeship branch. The terms of the law, also, will be made applicable to youths over twenty-one, the present limit in the regulations. Minimum Wage Act amendments provide penalties for the impersonation of inspectors, and close gaps in the existing statute concerning employment of men and women.

Mrs. Mary Baird, Dominion Supervisor, Is Special Guest at Party Arranged by Victoria Members—Candidates Will Be Initiated Later

Members of Queen Alexandra Review No. 1 last evening extended a cordial welcome to Mrs. Mary Baird, Dominion Supervisor, health and death benefits amounting to $55,000,000 have been paid out to members and their families.

The association's headquarters are in Port Huron, across the river from Sarnia, Ontario, which is Mrs. Baird's home. A staff of 125 women are engaged in executive work in the headquarters, and in addition to the American and Canadian members of the association, there are also 800 French-Canadians, whose reports, meetings, etc., are conducted in the French language.

Every effort is being made to build up a junior association equal in membership to the adult, and the older members are watching with the greatest interest the progress of their younger sisters, giving them all possible help, sympathy and advice, and showing a definite interest in all their undertakings.

It was of special interest to learn that the Canadian membership has largest actually solvent society managed exclusively by women in the world, and has $39,000,000 now invested. Nursing service, health and death benefits amounting to $55,000,000 have been paid out to members and their families.

After the toast to the King and the singing of the National Anthem, Mrs. Baird, Dominion Supervisor, extended greetings to Mrs. Baird, and a toast was proposed to the supreme president, Mrs. Baird responding, Miss Caroline O'Brien acted as chairman.

Miss Caroline O'Brien, provincial supervisor, who was here from Vancouver for the occasion, then introduced Mrs. Baird, who, in a particularly graceful and informal address, spoke of her delight in being again in Victoria and in meeting her friends in the Review. She specially thanked the members of the Review, the Pioneer Club and the Qu-Alex Girls for their gifts of flowers which she had received upon her arrival at the Empress Hotel.

Lieut.-Governor And Premier to Attend Function

HIS Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Eric W. Hamber, and Premier and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo have announced they will attend the twenty-third annual ball of the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association, to be held next Friday at the Empress Hotel. Elaborate plans are under way to assure the function being a success of high order.

The highest percentage of persistence in the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association was granted in 1934.

Mrs. McQueen Todd expressed the thanks of the Review to the Ladies' Aid.

After the banquet, the members and special visitors adjourned to the Victoria Truth Centre for a business session, and the ritualistic work was exemplified.

NEW MEMBERS
Mrs. Baird gave an instructive address on the work of the W.B.A. The following candidates were initiated: Mrs. Phyllis Ritchie, Mrs. Charlotte Yeamans, Misses Rita Keeler, Rita Galtie, Ida Tatham, June McAllister, Helen Atack, Winnie Graham, Marjorie Bowden and May Watkins, with Mrs. M. A. Ritchie, the president, in charge.

The banquet was under the supervision of Mrs. Jean Bowden, and the decorations were the handwork of Mrs. W. McAllister.

New Artists Are Seen in Club Plays

Two plays directed by members of the Beaux-Arts were presented at the meeting of the society last night at the Crystal Garden. In the plays many of the members appeared on the stage for the first time, and their work was received enthusiastically by the audience.

The first play was "The Thought Machine," directed by Hope Denbigh, with the following cast: Miss Briggs, played by Honor Benson; Mr. Bancroft, David Bird; Mr. Barlow, David Oldham; Gladys, Muriel Dunsmuir; Mrs. Jones, Lillian Sweeney; Albert, Robert Lindgren; Bob Dennis, Peter Jones, and Milly, Mary Lindgren. In this play Honor Benson was outstanding in her part.

"The Blind" was the title of the second play, directed by Faith Cumming. The role of doctor was taken by Gregor Crawley, and that of his fiancée, Miss Carstairs, was acted by Lorraine Pendray. Jean Findlay took the part of Mrs. Leary, the drunken mother of Minnie, played by Betty Petch. Miss Findlay excelled in her part. Miss Burt, the nurse, was played by "Billie" McCauley.

During the intermission, Mr. Leonard Arnes played a group of pianoforte solos. At the conclusion of the program, the members were given a treat, when Miss Harriet Meldrum, a talented young artist from Seattle, arrived from a previous engagement and delighted the audience with two soprano solos, accompanied by Brian Burdon-Murphy. So enthusiastically was she received that for encores she gave two humorous readings.

Miss Helen Sweetland, the president, conducted the short business meeting earlier in the evening and invited the guests to stay for refreshments, which were served at the conclusion of the evening.

Belmont W.A.
The monthly meeting of the W.A. of the Belmont Avenue United Church was held at the parsonage, 2023 Belmont Avenue, with a good attendance of members. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. F. Emery. After the opening hymn, Mrs. Jenkins read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. James Hood offered prayer. General business occupied the first part of the afternoon. Mrs. Knight, the treasurer, gave a report of the Thanksgiving supper which was held recently and which was most successful. Final arrangements were made for a banquet to be held on Wednesday, November 18, from 3 to 6 p.m. The ladies in charge of the booths are: Fancynook and plain sewing, Mesdames Jenkins and Peare, home cooking, Mesdames Williams and Calderhead, candy, Mesdames Barnes and Smith, searoom, Mesdames F. Emery, R. Owens, L. Benson, A. Parfitt, G. A. Butler and Henderson; children's novelties, Mrs. R. Knight. The meeting closed with the Mirpeth Benediction, after which the hostess, Mrs. James Hood, served tea.

Altar Society
The Altar Society of St. Elizabeth's Church, Sidney, held a special meeting recently to receive reports from committees which organized the military five hundred and social evening held on October 20. The president, Mrs. A. E. Collyer, was in the chair. The financial returns were satisfactory and the meeting expressed appreciation of the support given the social by the many who attended or helped in any way to make the evening a success.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If October 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m. and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 4:45 to 6:45 p.m. and from 10:45 p.m. until midnight. If you expect to do any entertaining during the week-end, the logical time for your preparatory work is this day. The average person is likely to be in a receptive mood for invitations promising social diversion. Friends may try to contact you this day, and it will be well to be available, if they call or telephone. Someone you have had a disagreement with is apt to come to you with friendly overtures. Be magnanimous and bury the hatchet. Any misgivings you might have this day, in regard to attending some informal affair are likely to be without any justification. Do not ignore warnings relating to some person's business ethics, and if you are wise you should see that you are above reproach. Married and engaged couples, as well as those discussing matrimonial plans, had best not try in fun to frighten anyone, for trouble seems to be brewing in a mistaken sense of humor. If a woman and October 30 is your birthday, you have probably a great amount of vitality, versatile conversational powers and an appreciation of music. You should take a daily constitutional, for walking might keep you in good physical trim. Be careful how you give liberties with your stomach, for dieting can be as harmful as it might be beneficial. Your personal appearance requires careful consideration, for it might have an important bearing on your future. It might be good judgment not to adapt any of fashion's extremes in the way of dress or personal adornments. As a dietician, nurse, teacher, newspaper writer, poet, musician or artist you might achieve results that ought to enable you to attain an important position. Your married life is apparently going to be serene. The child born on October 30, possibly in its teens will have some relative or friend who takes a keen personal interest in its future career. Influence in some way seems predestined to help this youngster to success. If a man and October 30 is your natal day, try to always avoid getting mixed up in litigation, for lawsuits are liable to cost a great deal of money. If you have confidence in your wife's opinion—seek it. Contracting, building, engineering, journalism or some artistic career possibly will make you financially secure. Test Clerk (testing automatic subscribers' telephone). I am sorry, madam, but you have a fast dial! Subscriber: "How dare you, sir!"

Liner Docked Yesterday
From Sydney

Picking up some time yesterday, the Canadian-Australasian mail liner Aorangi, Captain T. V. Hill, commander, reached Rutherford Pier shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, inbound from Sydney by way of Auckland, Suva and Honolulu. Captain Hill reported an uneventful trip. In a hurry to get to Vancouver the ship left the local dock at 5:30, after leaving a number of passengers for the Seattle boat, mails and some general cargo.

Among the more prominent travelers arriving on the Aorangi were: Hon. Mr. W. Nash, Minister of Finance and Customs, N.Z., and Mrs. Nash; Mr. J. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Aickin, Miss G. T. P. Armitage, Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson, C. A. Pascoe and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Stutch, members of the New Zealand party accompanying Mr. Nash; A. Ponville, French tourist; and Rebel Russell and Chief G. Cheewah, prominent wrestlers returning from "Down Under."

Other passengers included Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pugh, the former being a well-known skin buyer of Sydney.

America With Captain
Peel on Bridge

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 29. — R.M.S. Queen Mary, fastest of ocean liners, steamed toward New York today under command of Captain Reginald Peel, flag half-masted for her first master, Commodore Sir Edgar Britten.

Two hours before sailing time yesterday, a steward walked into Sir Edgar's cabin and found him dying on the floor. He had suffered a stroke while dressing to take the great ship out on its voyage to New York. He was taken ashore to a nursing home and died a few hours later, before Lady Britten could reach his bedside.

In Five Years

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29. — The British Columbia salmon pack to date this year totaled 1,866,932 cases, the highest figure for the past five years and 333,736 cases higher than 1934, the previous high year, according to the weekly report issued by the Department of Fisheries.

Chums accounted for the largest gain, with a jump of 162,184 cases at 541,138. Sockeye rose 62,435 cases to 409,321 and pinks also showed an increase.

STEERING GEAR
IS SWEEP AWAYFate of British Freighter
Afghanistan Was in Doubt Yesterday

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. — Fate of the British freighter Afghanistan remained in doubt today. The vessel sent out an SOS last night from a position halfway across the Atlantic, but wireless companies reported at noon today no further word had been received from the 5,000-ton vessel.

The distress call, picked up here by Mackay Radio, said a gale had swept away the Afghanistan's steering gear and that she was uncertain of her position.

She plies between Montreal and British ports and is owned by the Hindustan Steam Shipping Co., Ltd., of London.

British Columbia Fishermen Showed Increases

Fishermen of all five of Canada's sea fisheries provinces, except Quebec, made bigger landings in August last than they did in August, 1935, and in the Quebec case the decrease was small.

Combined catch of sea fish and shellfish on the two coasts, as shown by unrevised records, was about 1,740,000 hundredweights, and its value to the fishermen, as landed, was approximately $2,940,000—a gain of over 200,000 hundredweights in one case and more than $500,000 in the other. Unrevised monthly reports, however, give only approximate figures.

In British Columbia the salmon fishermen had good luck during the

INJURIES AFFECT ENGLISH ELEVEN

ADELAIDE, Australia, Oct. 29.—Injuries and illness are weakening the M.C.C. team visiting Australia and the tour has only just started. Examination here revealed that R. E. S. Wyatt, popular Warwickshire amateur and captain, suffered a definite fracture of the ulna, about two inches from the wrist, in the game against Clare yesterday. The bone was reset today, but Wyatt is not likely to play for six weeks.

Wyatt is the third member of the team to suffer a major injury. R.

W. V. Robins, Middlesex spin bowler, and George Duckworth, veteran Lancashire wicketkeeper, both had fingers hurt in the opening matches at Perth. Robins is not likely to play for a month, but Duckworth may be back in the team in a week or so.

Illness resulted in Leslie Ames being sent on to Melbourne from Perth by boat to avoid the tedious rail journey across the continent. The Kent players, in preparation for being one of the strongest batsmen in the team is also a first-class wicketkeeper.

Tomorrow the English team starts a match against South Australia at Adelaide.

MATMEN RETURN FROM ANTIPODES

Returning from a successful invasion of New Zealand and Australia, Chief Chivaki and Rebel Russell, well-known wrestlers, passed through Victoria yesterday evening aboard the R.M.S. Aorangi.

Both men reported the game was thriving "down under," and stated that they had enjoyed a good season. While their plans for the future were indefinite, Chief Chivaki intimated that he would stay on the Coast for a few weeks at least.

Chief Chivaki is well known to local wrestling fans, having appeared at the "Tillamook gymnasium" in a number of matches. Years ago he campaigned as a heavyweight boxer, and in 1928 scored a one-round knockout over Maxie Schmeling, German fighter, who kayaked Joe Louis, the Detroit bomber, some time ago.

New Zealand Has Special Stamp Issue

Yesterday's mail from New Zealand brought to several Victorians specimens of the special issue of postage stamps brought out a few weeks ago to commemorate the first congress to be held in New Zealand of the Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire.

These are beautiful examples of philatelic art. On one of the congress commemorative "First Day Covers," or envelopes, received here a set of five stamps was attached. Representing the principal industries of New Zealand, they are of the following denominations: Six-penny, brown, picturing a ship loading freight; four-penny, mauve, representing apple-packing industry; blue two-penny half-penny stamp, with picture of drove of sheep, representing the industry of mutton growing; red penny stamp, with picture of butter packing, representing dairy products; and green half-penny stamp, with truckload of baled wool, of the sister Dominion's major products.

Anglican Young People

ST. MARY'S
An enjoyable Halloween social was held on Wednesday evening when St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. entertained the Obypa Club in St. Mary's Hall, which had been attractively decorated for the occasion by members of the association. "After a programme of games and dancing, supper was served during which prizes were given for the best costumes, and dancing continued later. Next week a business meeting will be held.

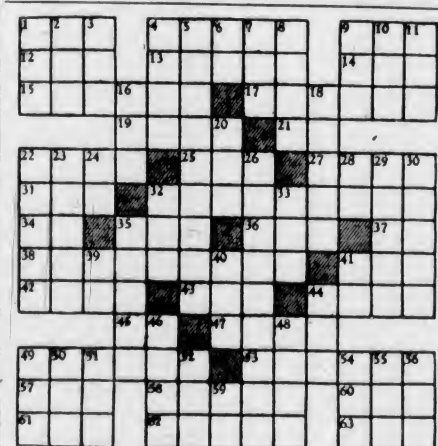

ST. JOHN'S

The regular meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A. was held, with the president, Alan Paver, in the chair. The hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," was sung and prayer was led by Mr. S. C. Hawkins. Report of the Local Council was given by the vice-president, Stanley Laver. A telephone auction bridge will be held during the week November 16-21. Reservations may be made by telephoning G 1487, G 7559, or G 6982. Mr. Hawkins gave a brief talk on "Young People and the Church." At the next meeting, Mr. C. L. Harrison will show motion pictures on "A Trip Through the Rocky Mountains."

The imaginative boy of a local suburban class presented the following essay on geese:

"A geese is a low, heavy-set bird which is mostly meat and feathers. His head sits on one side and he sits on the other. Geese can't sing much on account of the dampness of moistures. He ain't got no be-tween-his-toes and he's got a little balloon in his stomach to keep him from sinking. Some geese, when they get big, has curls on their tails and is called gardeners. Cinders don't have to sit and hatch but just eat and loaf, and loaf and go swimming. If I was a geese I'd rather be a gander."

DOMINION OFFERS "LADIES IN LOVE"

Exciting Picture Features Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young and Constance Bennett

Only the four famous actresses appearing in the new Twentieth Century-Fox picture, "Ladies in Love," currently at the Dominion Theatre, could so excitingly present this bitter-sweet romance of their adventures and disillusion in search of love.

Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young and Constance Bennett are starred and Simone Simon featured in the most brilliant array of feminine personalities ever assembled in one picture, with Don Ameche, Paul Lukas, Tyrone Power, Jr., and Alan Mowbray heading the cast.

Edward H. Griffith directed the production, with B. G. DeSylva as associate producer.

PLAZA "My Song for You," the THEATRE British production now at the Plaza Theatre, is the story of an opera singer. Jan Kiepura, well-known opera singer, who scored such a hit in "The Mine Tonight," is seen in the leading role.

ATLAS

When W. Somerset Maugham writes a spy story it can be depended upon to be exciting, swift, tense and romantic. His "Ashenden" stories provided the screen story for "Secret Agent," the G.B. production now at the Atlas Theatre, with Madeleine Carroll, Peter Lorre, John Gielgud and Robert Young starred, and directed by Alfred Hitchcock.

CAPITOL

Ginger Rogers and THEATRE Fred Astaire, the romantic dance team, will be seen at the Capitol Theatre for the last times today in "Swing Time," their latest production. Helen Broderick and Eric Blore are also in the cast.

COLUMBIA

The plottings of international spies are exposed in "The Great Impersonation," with Frankness and from season attempted on the motion picture screen. This Universal picture, which is now at the Columbia Theatre, is expected to create considerable political stir in every country where it is released.

OAK BAY

In "I Dream Too Much," now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, the lovely French courtesan, Lily Pons, is a constant source of breathless surprise. She reveals herself not only as a singer of superb talent, but as an actress of brilliant and natural wit as well. Miss Pons sings the Bell Song from "Lakme" and "Caro Nome" from Verdi's "Rigoletto" as well as four specially composed numbers.

GOLF MATCH ON SUNDAY

The president's son, captain's match will be played Sunday at the Royal Colwood Golf Club. Members wishing to play are asked to communicate with the secretary.

Seattle Symphony Is Highly Rated

There are three outstanding features in the visit of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra to the city, apart from the fact that it has become one of the finest orchestras in the United States. Its forceful, unusually gifted conductor, Dr. Basil Cameron, is an Englishman; the soloist on the occasion, Barbara Cushman, is a brilliant Canadian pianist (on tour with the orchestra), and that it is an all-professional one, many of its players being accounted the equal to any in the best of all orchestras. The programme will be given at the Royal Victoria Theatre next Thursday evening.

DON COSSACK CHORUS SINGS FOLK MELODIES

The men of the Don Cossack Chorus come from that part of Southwestern Russia called the Steppes, and from that particular province through which the slow-flowing waters of the Sea of Azov, majestically on to the Sea of Azov. The men who comprise the Don Cossack Chorus today are refugees with small hope of seeing again their native land. But they carry its memory jealously guarded. Into the music of their native folk melodies they pour all the passionate intensity of their longing.

The amazing technical perfection of their performances has made them the sensational drawing-card of Europe. One of the costliest attractions ever imported, they return this season for their seventh American and Canadian tour, which will extend from coast to coast.

Soccer Chatter

By A.F.A.N.

The B.C. Football Commissioners have worked a problem in mathematics following the good old rule of three, checking and double checking their results on paper, they arrived at a solution of their problem. The soccer commission has decided that the answer at the back of the book was correct so they proceeded to put the idea into practice.

Now there are rumors that they have appealed to the Professor of Mathematics at the University. It appears that, in practice, the rule of three has a flaw in it, and not one of the commissioners, nor one of their advisers can explain away the apparent failure of their childhood teaching.

This was the problem that they set themselves. Last season they experienced considerable success with their intercity league, but being zealous beyond the ordinary, they aimed at perfection, and this how they worked it out. They first gave perfection a numerical value, say, 100. They then reckoned that last season they reached a figure of 66.6 (sixty-six and two-thirds).

Then they argued that if all their talent were compressed into smaller space, that is, into fewer teams, this figure would increase. The rule that they adopted was that success figures will increase in inverse ratio to the number of teams engaged. This, however, brought them to an absurd result. Two teams only would give them a success figure of 300, which, as poor old Euclid would say, is absurd.

So they had to try again, and, with Mr. Printer's permission, this is their solution:

Six teams gave a success figure of 66.6
One team will give a success figure of 666 x 6
Four teams will give a success figure of 66.6 x 4
Answer: 100 approx
—which is mathematically correct.

But to their consternation, the actual figure of success has already fallen far below last season's figure. Even the Royals, champions of Canada, cannot boost the figure. A Mainland fan has already seen all four teams in action and are looking for fresh faces. The best players have not crowded to the Big Four. It is judged that the figure of success has already reached a new low level of about thirty.

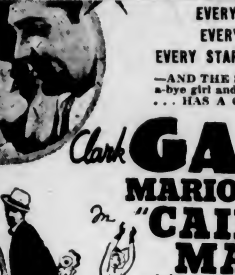

Seriously, if a four-team league is the best that B.C. can provide for its fans, we had better speak in an undertone when we are inclined to boast of the number of times B.C. has won Dominion honors. There is no doubt that the above-mentioned fallacy was accepted by the Commissioners with but one idea.

That idea was to give them an opportunity of shutting out Victoria, whose winning of the league was becoming monotonous. This year they are certain that Victoria will not win. My solution of the whole business is simple. But it will take a couple of seasons to work out to a conclusion.

Victoria will send Nanaimo the following men: De Costa, Bell, Barnes, Stewart, George Payne and another for two seasons. In April 1938, Nanaimo will have won the intercity league twice in succession. Good for the Island. In September, 1938

CHAPTER VII

Jocelyn's first reaction was surprise. Kel's lips brushed her's so lightly, it was scarcely like a kiss at all. No man had ever wanted to kiss her before, at least no one had ever made it known to her if he had.

She was so stunned with the suddenness of it all that she did not move. Kel, drawing his arm a little more tightly around her, kissed her again. Josh scarcely realized she was answering his kiss with her own lips. But she was.

The third kiss was almost violent. Then Kel released her, and moved away. Josh was no more surprised than he at what had happened. She leaned back, her round little face a blank of incredulity in the moonlight, and looked up at him wonderingly.

Kel smiled slowly.

"That—was not with malice aforethought, Josh. It—just sort of happened."

She nodded understandingly, without speaking. "You—didn't mind?" he asked humbly. "I guess it was the moon. And April. And you're a very sweet child, and I guess I've been a little lonesome. But must a man really try to think up so many excuses for kissing a girl?"

"I—I guess it's being done," Josh found her tongue, making a gallant effort to appear nonchalant.

What would he say, she wondered, if she suddenly gathered the courage to tell him no man had ever kissed her lips before?

He started the car immediately. Jocelyn found, all of a sudden, she wanted to cry. They drove up the little hill and through the entrance to the beach before Kel spoke again. He was looking straight before him thoughtfully.

It won't happen again, Josh, he told her earnestly. "That sort of a thing spoils a friendship like ours. I don't want it to be a parking and kissing sort of thing. Do you?"

"Oh, no," she agreed miserably, and was surprised at the sharp ache in her heart. "We—must forget it ever happened. It doesn't matter at all."

She was nonplussed when he threw back his head and laughed.

"What funny people we are, Josh!" He touched the hands she had gripped in her lap, fleetingly. "In this modern day and age when a girl is supposed to think she has something the matter with her if she doesn't get kissed by every man who takes her out, I'm apologizing to you for having become a little moon-struck."

"But, Dr. Lowell, are you forgetting I am Mary Lou Temple? Disapproving of promiscuous kissing is my bread and butter. But in this instance I guess I'll have to forgive you. You must have been thinking of someone else."

He smiled half-heartedly.

"Of a couple of blondes, perhaps. Well, let's talk about the weather. But it was fun while it lasted. So, how are all your folks?"

"My rheumatism is fair to middlin'," she came back with an effort. At the door he held out in a quick little self-conscious clasp. Towering above him was all his gravity and dignity as he said:

"Good night, Josh. I'll probably see you tomorrow when I run in to see Suzie. I didn't think it was necessary to come in again, but she seems to think she may have a relapse."

"She likes you for some reason," Jocelyn smiled. "I guess it's your suave, bedside manner that gets 'em. Well I hope none of your patients need you tonight."

"I'm not tired any more." He stepped backward down the steps. "Thanks to your prescription. Be seeing you."

Inside the door she looked through the curtain and watched him enter his house. Upstairs in her own room she sat down and stared into space a long time before she undressed.

Once in bed she found it impossible to sleep. The amazing events of the last twenty-four hours raced through her mind. She had met a wonderful man, fed him supper—they had become like old friends in a few short minutes. And the first time he had taken her in his arms, she had kissed him in the moonlight.

Then she thought of Jacqueline. Jake would think no more of a kiss in the moonlight than she did of taking a walk. She knew, because without any she had seen Jake kissed by a dozen boys. It seemed everybody wanted to kiss her beautiful blonde sister.

From the letters that poured into her daily, she made up her mind kissing was just about the great national indoor and outdoor sport. Lots of girls pretended they wanted to be advised about whether it was the proper thing to do or not. But in the same breath they'd say their boy friends wouldn't go out with them if they didn't get a good-night kiss.

And she had been kissed—at last. Why hadn't she pushed him away and told him it wasn't the proper thing to do? Instead she had kissed Kel Lowell back, and assured him it was all right when he apologized.

She thought of Mr. Buell, and her conference with him. Mr. Buell had said he had known she was different from the other little adobe-brained hat-racks about the Crampson Syndicate. But was she?

Josh did her best, then, to laugh it off. Even Kel had laughed about it. The very idea of apologizing in this day and age for kissing a girl, he had said! It was old-fashioned, and they were funny people.

April. Moonlight. Romance. The magic of the night had woven its spell around Mrs. Mary Lou Temple, herself. The girl who was able to give other people sensible, sane, unbiased advice because she was different. Because she was a well-balanced, old-fashioned type who would never know what it meant to have love problems of her own.

Well, it wouldn't happen again. Because Kel Lowell wouldn't try to kiss her—ever. He had said so. They were going to forget it—and that was that! She had given Mr. Buell her promise not to fall in love, or not to become involved! And a couple of days after she had been kissed for the first time. Funny, really. A rare coincidence.

Dawn was streaking the sky before she fell into a troubled sleep, to live over again in a strange nightmare, the feel of Kel Lowell's arms around her, his lips on hers. She dreamed they were married. Mr. Buell had fired her from her job.

The next morning it seemed all like a dream. It was some time before she could make up her mind to go to school. Kel Lowell had made love to her in the flesh.

Maida and Jake were off somewhere on a week-end party, and Josh and Suzie were alone except for Mrs. Tell. Jinx seemed strangely willing to lie in bed and let Josh read to her, but she didn't seem at all ill. The wound in the head was healing rapidly, and except for a few bruises she seemed almost none the worse for her experience. Just tired from the shock of being hit with the car, perhaps, Jocelyn decided.

It was late in the afternoon when Mrs. Tell admitted Dr. Lowell. Josh half rose in alarm when she heard him coming up the stairs. A slow flush ran down her neck and spread to her forehead.

Suzie caught the unmistakable sign of panic in her usually calm sister. She looked from Josh to Kel as they confronted each other in the doorway, and a sudden burst of intuition sent a grin to her wide green eyes. She said nothing, for once in her life. But she didn't need to be told that her sister was flustered in the presence of Dr. Lowell, and that the doctor himself was ill at ease.

Kel was painfully cordial but quite matter of fact. He gave Jinx a brief going over, told her she could go to school. His very haste made Suzie more positive that the doctor and Josh, for some reason were bothered about something.

When he left, Jocelyn still flushed.

picked up the book and resumed her reading aloud. But suddenly, Jinx kicked up her heels like a colt and laughed raspingly.

"Ha, ha, ha! I guess I know something. Yahi! yahi! yahi!"

"For instance?" Josh laid down her book patiently, wondering what was coming next.

"I guess I know you're in love with Dr. Lowell. Ha, ha, ha. You're in love with Dr. Lowell! Anyways, you got all red as a lobster when he came in, and you stuttered around here like a couple of goofs. Yes, Miss Kelvin! Yes, Dr. Lowell! Ha, ha, ha."

"You're crazy," Josh said shortly. "I've known him less than two days and I'm in love with him and he's in love with me!"

"Well," Suzie wrinkled her freckled little nose in another satanic grin. "There's more to this business than meets the eye. I'm goin' to keep my eyes open."

"I'll bet bet you are," Josh could not help smiling. "If you ever do miss anything it won't be because you didn't nose around trying to solve the mystery. Suzie, you're a born snooper! I'm surprised you take the time to sleep nights."

Suzie shrugged elegantly. "Well, it's about time you got a beau! Only don't let Jake get her hooks into him. I'll get her out of the way if he comes back again, if you want me to. I guess if he ever saw her you wouldn't have much of a chance."

Josh looked pained. "Sue, you're frank if nothing else. Why don't you stop saying everything that comes into your mind? I don't give a darn, you know that. But some people are sensitive. You'll have to learn tact."

"Oh, phooey!" Jinx fell back on the expression she always used when she was stumped for words.

The phone rang and Josh answered it on the extension in her room, leaving the door slightly ajar. It was Kel Lowell.

And she was astonished when the doctor asked her to have dinner with him again that night. For a few seconds she debated telling him she had another engagement. But she was afraid he would think she was offended over his kissing her. So she told him she'd be ready at seven o'clock.

When she hung up there was a sudden movement on the other side of the door. She tiptoed over and pushed it hurriedly. Suzie scampered back into bed, yelling gleefully:

"Yes, Kel, seven o'clock. All right, I think I can make it. Kel! Kel! She called him Kel. Ha, ha, ha. Oh, boy, have I got the dirt on youse guys. Yahi! Yahi! Yahi!"

Libby's HOMOGENIZED Baby Foods

During their baby days the Dionne Quintuplets thrived on Libby's Homogenized Baby Foods.

Safely into Childhood

.. critical Baby Days over!

But what a tremendous responsibility the Dionne Quintuplets were. Just tiny babies—so helpless—so dependent on others during those first two critical years. Mother! Here is news that is vitally important to you—and your baby. Libby's has made a great discovery which makes baby's solid foods finer—smoother—softer. The Dionne Quintuplets thrived on Libby's Homogenized foods during their critical baby days. It is Libby's special method of Homogenization which makes vegetables, fruit, cereals and soup far finer, far smoother than strained foods.

1. For More Nourishing

Scientific tests show that Libby's special process of Homogenization makes vegetables, fruits, cereals and soup so fine and smooth, they digest far more completely than the most carefully strained foods. Baby uses far less energy in digesting them . . . and gets far more nourishment.

2. Earlier Feeding Possible

Many doctors recommend Libby's Homogenized Vegetables as early as 3 months . . . weeks earlier than strained foods . . . so give baby the minerals he needs to help protect against nutritional anemia. (Homogenized vegetables are up to five times as rich in vitamins as strained foods.)

3. Fewer Digestive Upsets

Doctors find Libby's Homogenized Foods far easier to digest than strained foods. Enthusiastic mothers write that since feeding Libby's Homogenized foods their babies have fewer digestive upsets.

TRY TO REACH HARRY HOUDINI

Members of Victoria Magicians Will Seek Message From Dead Wizard

When Harry Houdini, the great magician, died on October 31, 1926, he promised his wife that if it was found possible to communicate with her from the other world, that he would do so on the anniversary of his death. Each year since that time Mrs. Houdini has arranged a seance on the anniversary of his death, without receiving the arranged message.

On Halloween this year, Mrs. Houdini will make one last effort to communicate with her departed husband. She will attend a seance in Hollywood, and has appealed to William Harkness, leader of the Victoria branch of the Wizards of the West to coincidentally arrange a seance in this city. Other seances will be held by other groups of magicians throughout United States and Canada.

LAST GREAT EFFORT
In a personal wire to Mr. Harkness, who holds the Houdini trophy for magic, Mrs. Houdini states that this will be the last great effort to break through the mystic veil and establish whether or not communication with the dead is possible. Houdini, during his life, denied the claims of spiritualists to such communication, and made a pact with his wife that if such power was possible, that he would send her an arranged message. "My Dear Mr. Culbertson:

"From a strictly technical point of view, I greatly enjoy reading your contract column. But I am often revolted and infuriated by your persistent implication that men play so much better than do women. Of course you are too much the diplomat to come out into the open and say so, but the fact that every hand you publish that was brilliantly bid or played had a man at the helm is evidence of your bias, to me at least. Good Way to Treat Piles

Most pile sufferers seem to think that their trouble is just a local condition. This is only partly true. Dr. Leowhardt, after years of study, learned one great, surprising cause of piles was an internal congestion, hindering the return blood flow from the lower bowel, with increasing pain and misery.

Dr. Leowhardt also learned the proper way to treat such piles was with an internal treatment, which would attack a cause, that this was the best way to get a lasting relief. He learned the idea that by reaching the cause, more lasting benefit and greater freedom from piles would be had.

Hem-Roid is an internal treatment. Its indication is directed to correcting congestion which causes or aggravates piles in the majority of cases. Once this is done, relief quickly follows.

Hem-Roid is a very effective, easy and pleasant way to treat piles. Usually definite results will be seen the first day. Mr. Portland and Vancouver Drug Stores, or any druggist can supply you, and if you are not pleased with the first bottle, you may have your money back. Try it and prepare yourself for a pleasant surprise. (Advt.)

APPEAL IS DISMISSED

Judgment Supports Right of City to Enforce Prohibition Of Soliciting

In his decision in the appeal taken from the judgment of Magistrate George Jay relative to the right of the City of Victoria to prohibit the practice of soliciting patronage of a taxi line by calling from the water to a steamer approaching the wharves, Judge A. M. Harper yesterday upheld the right of the city to enact the prohibitory by-law, and sustained the judgment of the magistrate.

The appeal was one taken by A. Buller as a test case to try out the right of the city. Judge Harper, in his judgment handed down yesterday, said that in view of the fact that it was a test case, he would, in dismissing the appeal, do so without costs in the case.

In the judgment, it was stated that it was admitted that a megaphone had been used from the water so that there was no question about the facts. The question was one purely of the right of the city to pass the by-law complained of.

PROHIBITION SET UP
The by-law, it was pointed out, set out that soliciting from land or water by blowing a horn, by megaphone, by shouting, etc., constituted an infraction of the by-law. The by-law set out that the intention was to prohibit the practices complained of at various designated places in the city, ending with "or other public place."

It had been argued, the court observed, that this would exclude the water.

His Honor pointed out that "place" and "public place" had been repeatedly pointed out to be very elastic terms and that the meaning must be interpreted having regard to the context and the purview of the legislation.

WITHIN ITS POWER

The Legislature, in dealing with a matter covering practically the same subject, had delegated to the municipalities the power to protect what might become a public nuisance. The language there used was quoted as follows: "For preventing persons whether the drivers of vehicles or not from shouting, calling or creating any noise deemed undesirable at such places within the municipalities, shall be prevented by by-law."

This showed that the intention of the Legislature was to delegate to municipalities absolute and unfettered discretion to designate such places within the limits of the City of Victoria where any "shouting, calling or creating any noise deemed undesirable" should not take place.

The language, the court said, was broad and comprehensive and made a complete answer to the charge that the municipal jurisdiction had not been exceeded or was in excess of the statutory delegation.

Alexis Martin appeared for the appellant, with C. L. Harrison for the city.

SIDNEY, Oct. 29.—The regular work meeting of the North Saanich Welfare Club was held at "Shoreacres," Third Street. The clothing committee would appreciate donations of used clothing of all kinds. There is a special demand for underwear in all sizes.

ROTARIANS ARE DINNER HOSTS

Music and Entertainment Feature Affair at Empress Hotel Last Night

Rotarians of Victoria last night played hosts to their wives and friends with a cabaret dinner, entertainment and dance in the crystal ballroom of the Empress Hotel. The affair was one of the semi-annual dinners and entertainments arranged for the ladies of Rotary, and it was highly successful from every point of view.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, with dancing between courses. Immediately following the cabaret, Frank J. Sehl, director of entertainment, staged a comedy musical skit which proved the feature of the evening.

NOVEL PROGRAMME

In the guise of Professor Schnitzelbaum, whose music studio was invaded by after-the-holiday students in search of a more liberal musical education, Mr. Sehl called upon each one of the students to sing or say the piece. There was some confusion, but the professor was finally able to "make it some sense" and the entertainment that followed was of a high order. Those taking part in the skit were Arthur Ker, Frank Shandley, Mrs. Dorothy Sehl, Donald Mulcahy, Mrs. Lillian Shandley, Thomas Kelway, Miss Malstrom, Miss Patsy Swift and Colonel Edward Goodman.

Proceeding with the second part of the entertainment programme the professor was shown again in his studio and displaying an advertisement on a card: "Wanted—First-class musicians to form German band. Apply at the studio of Professor Schnitzelbaum." Musicians arrived, by ones and twos, and were interviewed by the professor and assigned to the band. The professor had a great deal of difficulty getting the musicians to play anything that resembled harmony, but after much persuasion, the band produced delightful melodies, marches and overtures.

CLEVER PRODUCTION

The whole of the entertainment was cleverly arranged and members and guests thoroughly enjoyed the novel production for which Mr. Sehl and his committee were responsible. The programme showed the following listed as musicians: Justin Gilbert, Leonard Foster, Ernest Prentiss, Horace Plimley, Alfred Prescott, "and also" Frank Waring, James Beatty, Walter Luney and John Simpson. The entertainment closed with a spirited number by the "German Band" and the "Studio Artists."

At the conclusion of the stage programme, dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

Frank Doherty, club president, presided at the dinner during which routine business was transacted. Col. H. T. Goodland conducted the contest and announced the winners. The contest was for ladies only.

ONLY 5 ENGINE STARTS IN 500 MILES OF DRIVING. This car is used in long trips across the country. There's little wear takes place here if the oil is tough enough to withstand high engine speed.

Why Dr. Smith's engine wears out faster than one that travels 3 times the distance

It's because Dr. Smith STARTS HIS ENGINE so often.

Automotive engineers now tell you that approximately three-fourths of all wear in an engine can occur during the starting period.

New Fast-Flowing Oil Checks Starting Wear

To cut down this starting wear, you need an oil that is FAST-FLOWING. (This is fairly easy to make.)

But when your engine warms up, you need a different quality in your oil... it must be TOUGH, hold its body, resist breaking down into sludge, carbon. (This is fairly easy to make.)

The problem has been to get both of these qualities in one motor oil. At a cost of $3,000,000, Shell engineers have now produced such a lubricant. The new Golden Shell Motor Oil is FAST-FLOWING yet TOUGH.

Leading engineers call the process Shell Oil Company of British Columbia, Ltd.

Stirring Action in Argos-Montreal Game

Here's some snappy action during the Toronto Argos and Montreal Indians' grid tussle last week at the Varsity Stadium. The Argos won the game by 12 to 4 to move closer to the leaders in the Inter-Provincial Rugby Union. This stirring bit of action early in the second quarter shows a Montreal tackler dropping one of the Argos men just as the double blue grabbed a long forward pass. The entire Montreal team is dashing in to complete the play. Montreal were backed up in their own end on the play. The loose ball can be seen in the air as the Argos player lets it slip from his fingers. No one is near to recover it.

BEATTIE'S GOAL BEATS MAROONS

Marker Gives Boston Bruins Edge on Hockey Series With Montreal

MONTREAL, N.B., Oct. 29.—Red Beattie's third-period goal tonight gave Boston Bruins a 1-0 win and a two-one edge in games in the exhibition series between Montreal Maroons and Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League.

Flash Hollett drew an assist on Beattie's goal, which came with less than two minutes of the regulation time left. Boston won the first game 2-1 in Saint John Monday night and Montreal Maroons evened the series last night in Saint John with a 3-2 win.

Five penalties were handed out. Dave Trotter, Lionel Conacher and Baldy Northcott, of the Maroons, serving time, while the other two went to Hockey Hall of Fame and Portland, of Boston.

It was Hockey's first time out in a game with Boston and the former Maroon drew a penalty for dumping Steve Evans, his former teammate.

Fight Is Canceled

Canadian Scottish to Battle Navy Tomorrow

Rugby Fifteens Will Clash in Barnard Cup Match at Macdonald Park—Wharton and Acland to Play For Soldiers—Two Intermediate Games

Their pack strengthened by the inclusion of Bill Wharton and Ian Acland, who played stand-off half in the initial fixture, has been moved to the scrum position in place of the elusive "Pincher" Martin, former Garrison player, while Martin will take Anderson's original berth. Frank Speed, who displayed some class last season, will play inside three-quarter.

Husky Bill Wharton, one of the finest backs in the province, will be at his favorite post tomorrow. He will be flanked by Ed Carter, former Vancouver Rowing Club player on one side, and Ian Acland on the other. The four-man second rank will include Campbell Forbes, Herbert Rowland, Harry Eastham and Dan Dowell. Sam Gardner will complete the pack.

Alex Anderson and "Pincher" Martin will be the halves, while the three-quarters will be John Forbes and Bill Thompson on opposite wings, and Ronnie McConnan and Frank Speed as inside. Ted Colgate, "rep" fullback, will be in his regular berth. Knight, Morton and Parker are the reserves.

Coach Aubrey Walls announced yesterday that Ed deBlaquiere, former Fifth Brigade forward, has signed for the club, and while not playing tomorrow, will see action with the team.

ROBINSON TO PLAY

Navy line-up for the fixture has not been announced, but according to reports from the Naval Barracks, Bruce Robinson is expected to start.

PLAYER SWITCHES

Coach Aubrey Walls of the Canadian Scottish, in addition to trotting out Wharton and Acland for their first games of the season, will make a few player switches in an effort to weld together a scoring machine.

Palo Alto Rugby Team Here at End of Year

PALO ALTO, Cal., Oct. 29.—An invitation to play a series of Rugby games in Vancouver and Victoria under the auspices of the British Columbia Rugby Union has been accepted by the Palo Alto All-Blacks, town team, Captain Frank Ingersoll said today.

The trip will be made during the Christmas holidays.

Several former American football players, including Bob Black, Larry Roubie and Woody Adams of the 1935 Stanford team, will play with the All-Blacks.

At fullback in place of Cockrill, who played in the opening game. Freeman, hard-working backfield man, will in all probability be called in to play as scrum half, with Smith shifting to the stand-off position. The pack is expected to be the same as it was last week.

Confidence reigns in the Navy camp as the boys await the sound of the whistle to go into battle for the second week. With Robinson back in uniform and a change or two in the backfield the sailors feel they can take the strengthened Canadian Scottish squad.

LEADING ELEVENS TO SEND STAR PLAYERS TO BELFAST GROUND

Match Between Scotland and Ireland to Feature Old Country Soccer Tomorrow—Brentford And Derby County Lose Players—Portsmouth Fortunate—Rangers vs. Accies

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The international soccer match between Scotland and Ireland at Belfast Saturday will weaken many English teams the week-end, but Portsmouth, leading team in the First Division, has not been called on to supply players and is likely to retain its place at the top of the pack.

Wolverhampton Wanderers, only one rung from the bottom in the league ladder, visit Portsmouth at Fratton Park, but should provide no obstacle to the last-stepping leaders.

Brentford, runner-up, will take the field at Leeds without McCulloch, crack centre-forward who is playing for Scotland. Despite this handicap the Bees should be able to make the measure of the Yorkshire squad, now in last place.

Brentford, with fifteen points, is two behind Portsmouth in the standing.

Scotland will also have the assistance of Napier and Duncan, of Derby County, one of Brentford's most formidable rivals. The county will substitute Ramage and Wilson at Stamford Bridge against Chelsea, which will line up without Mitchell, playing for Ireland, and Gibson, out with an injured knee. Derby will have to fight hard for points, as the pensioners have had only three goals scored against them in the last seven matches.

LANCASHIRE DERBY
Bury, Second Division leader, and Burnley meet on the former's ground in an East Lancashire Derby. The visitors will include William Smith at right-half, who has transferred from Crystal Palace during the week. Although minus Masie, Scottish international star, Aston Villa is likely to capture a point, at least, against Sheffield United in the Yorkshire city. Tottenham Hotspurs are hosts to Bradford City at White Hart Lane and will have the services of Rowe and Edrich, the Middlesex cricketer.

Luton Town, at home, will be given a great battle by Bournemouth, its rival for leadership in the Southern Section of the Third Division. John Smith, former English international, has been transferred from Bournemouth to Clapton Orient and he will play for his new club against Bristol Rovers in London. Vincent Blane, West Ham United goalkeeper, has gone to Crystal Palace at a substantial fee and will assist the Londoners against Watford.

In the Northern Section, Hull City will also go on the field with a new man against the powerful Chester squad. The City, during the week, signed on Jerry Best, Darlington sharpshooter who played in the United States for a while.

SCOTLAND LEAGUE
GLASGOW, Oct. 29.—Critics who have followed the fortunes of Glasgow Rangers in the Scottish Football League, are denouncing the fact the cup-holders haven't the punch of former years. The Ibrox Park team has played twelve games, seven entries going into the win column and the remaining in the drawn group. But the Rangers alone of the thirty-eight clubs making up both divisions boast an unbeaten record.

Last week's contest in Glasgow against the lowly Queen of South was counted as a two-point affair before the teams took the field. The game ended 1-1 and it was termed "unfortunate" for the Darnleys squad.

The students decided to offer the trophy. Saskatchewan winner, a guarantee of $500 and the first $300 of the net gate receipts to make the trip.

The game, they said, would be paired with the Occasional-Varsity English Rugby fixture slated for November 7 here, and the doubler would tend to draw a large crowd.

University of Alberta and University of Saskatchewan clash next Saturday.

Action of the Coast colligians followed refusal of the Big Four League last night to give them their freedom from a scheduled Big Four engagement on November 11, the day they had planned previously for the Hardy Cup series here.

St. George's School, Vancouver, will oppose College Squads tomorrow afternoon.

Brentwood College Rugby fifteen will play their first inter-school fixture tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when they stack up against their Vancouver rivals St. George's, on the lower ground at Brentwood.

M. Symons, who captains Brentwood this year, has five of last season's squad with him. Field at full-back and Aseltine Iard and Mitchell in the park fan Ross, who played for Victoria College.

St. George's are without last year's star three-quarter Berry, but can be relied on for a good game.

In the morning at 11 o'clock, Brentwood will play St. George's Colts.

Quashed in Victory

NEWMARKET, Oct. 29.—Lew Stanley's fifty Quashed defeated Penny Royal owned by E. T. Thornton-Smith, in the Hockey Club Handicap today. Quashed was for their use of those clubs. The race was won at two and a quarter mile course.

JANNAZZO TO MEET GARCIA THIS EVENING

New York Favorite Clashes With Filipino in Madison Square Garden

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The number one challenger for Barney Ross welterweight crown is expected to come out of tomorrow night's tussling in Madison Square Garden.

Celestino Garcia, hard-fighting Filipino from Los Angeles, goes against Janny Jannazzo, pride of New York's East Side, in a fifteen-rounder. Ross has agreed to meet the challenger in a title bout November 27.

The boys will be shooting for more than a chance to meet Chicago Bessie. Just to make sure the customers are plenty of flying leather, the Garden's promoter, James J. Johnston, has offered a $500 bonus for a knockout.

Broadway is betting 6 to 5 on Garcia, who showed in his Eastern debut against Cleo Locatelli some weeks ago that he packs a solid wallop.

GARCIA CAN PUNCH

As proof of his soaking power, the lad from Manila floored Ross in a bout in the West last year. Cutting loose with a right, Garcia sent Ross crashing to the deck. Barzani, flat on his back when the time-keeper's bell ended the round.

Jannazzo is a question mark. On occasion, he has turned in a brilliant performance. He has at other times disappointed his followers by erratic ring work.

Aldo Spolia, Italian lightweight in the front rank of those demanding a shot at champion Lou Ambers, will be well against Irish Eddie Brink, of Scranton, in the eight-round semi-final.

AMERKS TO BE MUCH STRONGER THAN LAST SEASON

Johnny Gallagher And Shields Will Strengthen Team

"Red" Dutton's New York Club Expected to Show Marked Improvement Over Previous Years—Defence Will Be Stronger—Schriner, Carr And Chapman to Be Regular Front Line

(This is the third of a Canadian Press series dealing with prospects of National Hockey League teams on the eve of the new campaign. Others will follow.)

By GEORGE MAGUIRE

Canadian Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—A lightning manager, Mervin "Red" Dutton, chalked up a sign in the dressing-room of the New York American Hockey Club late last season. It read: "Keep punching." The team did that and reached the semi-final round of the National League's Stanley Cup play-offs for the first time in its eleven-year history. That fighting phrase still hangs in full view at the "second home" of the Americans as they train for the 1936-37 campaign at Oshawa, Ont. And the team carries on there as aggressively as in the late stages of last season's campaign.

The recent ruling of N.H.L. governors forfeiting the Americans franchise for failure to negotiate deals, and counter-claims of Owner "Big Bill" Dwyer that the players are his personal property and will not step on the ice under league direction without a court order, has apparently not affected the players.

TO BE STRONGER
Reports reaching headquarters here indicate Manager Dutton will start the campaign in Chicago, November 5, with an outfit considerably stronger than the one he finally knocked out of the last cup semi-finals by Toronto Maple Leafs.

At defence and centre the Americans seem due to show marked improvement. Allan Shields, eleven blocker, has been secured from Montreal Maroons and Dutton plans to team the burly blond Ottawa with the hard-hitting Allan Murray as the first-string regulars. To help further, Johnny Gallagher was purchased from Detroit. Until an accident laid him low three years ago, Gallagher was considered on a par with the top light in his position. Should Gallagher stage a real comeback, the Amerk defence promises to be stronger than it has been in years. Fighting it out for the fourth place are Red Dorn, Jeff Kalbfleisch and Wilfred Fields. The first two performed well in the late stages of last season. Fields is a minor league recruit.

The old reliable "Shrimp" Worters will again guard the cage, and with strong blockers in front of him, Dutton feels little worry over that post.

Dave "Sweeney" Schriner, the league's leading marksmen, Art

Chapman, the great play-maker at centre, and Lorne Carr at right wing will again bear the brunt of Americans' offensive duties.

Last season the team lacked a fast, hard-shooting centre for either the second or third line, but this has been remedied by promotion of Lloyd Jackson to the major league club. He performed for New Haven, of the old Canadian-American League the past four years and was always in the first five leading scorers.

Dutton probably will use Jackson with Eddie Wiseman and Whitey Farrant, which would provide him with a young, fast and high-scoring combination.

VETERAN TRIO
A veteran trio, likely made up of Joe Lamb at centre, and Hal Cotton and Harry Oliver on the wings, gives the team a line to shoot into action in any tight spots where experience is needed.

Dutton says the morale of the team is high and physical condition good. He believes the club is greatly improved over the 1935-36 edition, even though Joe Jerns, sharp-shooting defenceman, has gone to Boston Bruins, and Nels Stewart, canny centre, has departed.

This tentative line-up, Dutton says, may be changed at the last minute to make room for such veteran forwards as Tommy Anderson, Lloyd Klein or Hap Emms, as well as several minor league recruits battling to make the major league team and avoid demotion to New Haven, now in the International-American circuit.

The Americans have a working agreement with New Haven this season.

POPULAR MEN BOOKED HERE ON MAT CARD

Good Heavyweights Signed For Tomorrow's Wrestling Show at Tillicum Gym

With five of the six men appearing on the card well known to Victoria wrestling fans, tomorrow's heavyweight grappling show at the Tillicum gymnasium promises to attract one of the season's biggest crowds. Pat Fraley, Nebraska; Glen Stone, Olympia; Fred Carone, Indian; Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian; and Louie Newman, Victoria wrestler, all favorites with the patrons, are booked for the programme.

Fraley will match holds with Tor Johnson, massive pachyderm, in the eight ten-minute round top bout. The latter will be showing for the first time at the local gymnasium. Weighing more than 300 pounds, Johnson is the biggest man in the mat game today.

Carone meets Indian in a five eight-minute round semi-windup. Thunderbird defeated Pat Maloney, Boston man, last week and will be out to gain another triumph before his home-town fans at the expense of Carone.

Shifty Glen Stone, likeable Olympic squirm, and popular Louie Newman, local exponent of the grunt and groin pastime, are booked for the special event. They will squirm for five six-minute rounds or the best two out of three falls.

The show will open at 8:45 o'clock with two local boys appearing in the preliminary.

Line-ups for tomorrow's football matches are as follows:

Victoria West—Restall, Sweeney, R. Bell, Lorrain, R. Barnes, Sage, G. Bell, Stewart, Watt, Robinson, Morgan, S. Barnes, D. Gent and P. Hall.

Kendrick Pinder, winner of the International Cup Derby at Brentwood, will receive a bronze medal for his thirty-one-pound salmon. The claim sheet had been previously rejected by the committee, but received the endorsement of the meeting last night.

Charlie Clarke, chairman of the investigation and tackle committee, gave notice that at the annual meeting he will introduce a motion to change the wording of the clauses of the constitution dealing with the disposal of buttons. In future the button fish will be definitely graded at ten-pound weight differences.

After a warm discussion and many different expressions of opinion, the members decided to establish their headquarters at The Anchorage, Brentwood. Some members felt such an important item should be dealt with at the annual meeting and certainly expressed themselves that way.

The annual Winter entertainment feature will be held in November, with the setting of the date and final arrangements left in the hands of the Chinook Club committee, under whose auspices the event will be held. Charlie Clarke is chairman. The meeting set aside a sum of money for the function, to take the form of a concert and dance. There will be no admission charge.

Jockey Clings to Winner

Flying Banner won this race at the Empire City track at Yonkers, N.Y., but jockey Anderson seems to be doing as much flying as his mount. Tossed from the saddle when Flying Banner put on a terrific spurt, Anderson hung tenaciously to his horse's neck and passed the finish pole still aboard. Time Me and Old Maid trailed the winner in this two-year-old test.

ANGLERS HAVE GREAT SEASON

V.S.I.A.A. Membership Is Higher This Year—Many Fine Catches Made

The Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association enjoyed a most successful season this year. Dr. Hugh Clarke, hard-working president, told members of the association at the Chamber of Commerce. Approximately fifty attended.

Fifty-four new members secured this season brought the total membership to 483. Dr. Clarke said.

The show will open at 8:45 o'clock with two local boys appearing in the preliminary.

Line-ups for tomorrow's football matches are as follows:

Victoria West—Restall, Sweeney, R. Bell, Lorrain, R. Barnes, Sage, G. Bell, Stewart, Watt, Robinson, Morgan, S. Barnes, D. Gent and P. Hall.

Victoria City—Rowe, Moody, Roper, C. Robbins, R. Robbins, Gar Robbins, Halkett, Okeil, Hodgson, Moore, Bayne, Brandow, Reside, Peers and Pearce. Players are asked to meet at the Royal Athletic Park at 2 o'clock.

Saanich Thistles, First Division—Chalmers, Stoffer, Harper, R. Williams, Leggett, Speller, Turner, Sage, Essler, Gent, English, Williams and Myles.

Saanich Thistles, Second Division—Elliot, Crowe, Armistead, Hodgkinson, Coleman, Bousfield, Hill, Williams, Hayward, Lemon, Mitchell and Murray.

V.A.C. Juveniles—Thomas, Simpson, Tonkin, Lowe, Atherton, McAllister, Shubrooke, Popham, Mar, C. Smith, Travis, Hardy, Watson, Booth, Roberts, Holding, Blupoh and O. Smith. Players are asked to be at Victoria West Park at 10 o'clock.

Will Get Button
Kendrick Pinder, winner of the International Cup Derby at Brentwood, will receive a bronze medal for his thirty-one-pound salmon. The claim sheet had been previously rejected by the committee, but received the endorsement of the meeting last night.

Charlie Clarke, chairman of the investigation and tackle committee, gave notice that at the annual meeting he will introduce a motion to change the wording of the clauses of the constitution dealing with the disposal of buttons. In future the button fish will be definitely graded at ten-pound weight differences.

After a warm discussion and many different expressions of opinion, the members decided to establish their headquarters at The Anchorage, Brentwood. Some members felt such an important item should be dealt with at the annual meeting and certainly expressed themselves that way.

The annual Winter entertainment feature will be held in November, with the setting of the date and final arrangements left in the hands of the Chinook Club committee, under whose auspices the event will be held. Charlie Clarke is chairman. The meeting set aside a sum of money for the function, to take the form of a concert and dance. There will be no admission charge.

The milliamen took the measure of the Bays in their first meeting of the season and will be out to make it two straight tonight. Kingham-Gillespie, Coast finalists in the Intermediate "A" play-offs last season, and the Regents will clash in the second attraction. How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"BAD BLOOD"

We share James Stephen's feeling that the time to get good news is when it's raining. Correlatively, the time to get good-natured is when there's bad blood. Blood is one of those things that's best left alone and unmodified; an adjective is usually a sign of weakness; witness half-blood, cold blood, hot blood and—among others—bad blood; the qualifiers simply spoil the strain.

"Bad" blood, signifying ill feeling.

has been a common English idiom for 300 years and more. Its earliest recorded use is said to be by Bacon in his "Henry VII." published in 1822.

Jane Dixon Says:

HERE ARE TWO LETTERS CONCERNING LOVE AND THE DIFFERENCE IN AGE—WELL, THE DIFFERENCE IN AGE IS NOT ALWAYS A MATTER OF YEARS

Dear Miss Dixon: I'm in my middle twenties, and have been keeping company with a young man for the last year and a half. We have the same tastes and agree on most subjects. He is almost five years my junior. I've never approved of women marrying men younger than themselves.

Do you think that, to some extent, the advisability of marriage, under the circumstances, is dependent upon the individuals concerned?

The man has been going out socially since he was fifteen, while I, being of a retiring nature, didn't go out until I was twenty. Maybe this is why I am taken for being younger than my years. And the young man is taken for my senior.

When we began going together, both of us thought that the other was of a like age. When the difference was discovered, we had become so attached to one another that giving it all up was impossible. He is a fine young man with no bad habits I've discovered, with plenty of ambition and with good family background.

If you were in my position, would you follow the dictates of your heart or would you give up because of the difference in age?—H. M. S.

Answer: I'd follow the dictates of my heart. And when you follow that dictate, you must adhere to it. You must forget about years about seniority, and think only that you love and that marital union is not a matter of days, months or even of years—it's a partnership designed to last for life. The success of the venture does not depend upon the years we bring to it, but upon the kindness, the understanding, the sincere effort we give toward building it into a happy estate.

As you suggest, difference in age is not always a matter of years. There are girls who are old at twenty, and women who are young at sixty.

There are old young men and young old men. Experience matures us mentally and physically. The fact that neither of you discovered the difference in your ages until after you had fallen in love, proves that in heart and mind you are even, and that the accident of birth need be no handicap so far as your future oneness is concerned.

Dear Jane Dixon: I'm engaged to a girl who is a few months older than myself. At first I didn't think it made any difference, but now I find it does, because she seems to figure those few months' edge she has on me gives her the right to boss the whole show. I hate to pull out, because I was honestly in love with her; and I still am in a way, but I know we'll never make a go of it with her acting the way she does. I've asked her to cut it out, but she gets worse instead of better. What's a fellow to do?—Tom.

Answer: Better "pull out." Tom. Marriage will not cut those few months from the young woman's age, nor quell her disposition toward dictatorship.

When a definite difference in age exists in the mind as well as on the calendar, it must be given serious consideration. You've considered and apparently you have already fallen out of love. Explain to the girl that you feel the two of you are temperamentally unsuited, and ask her to release you from the engagement.

COWICHAN BAY ROAD

Sir,—I notice in Sunday's edition of your paper a Councilor Hawkins advocating a cut-off road away back of Cowichan Bay, estimated to cost $30,000. Why? We have now three roads (cut-off) at and leading towards Duncan, each of which is now in a very poor condition, and Cowichan Bay Road is worse, and it appears the Government has no money for either to be attended to.

The new proposed road goes through two properties owned by brothers of Mr. Hawkins and would cross Hawkins Creek to the same level as Cowichan Bay Road, where a steeper grade would have to be made and another bridge built for this so-called express traveling road. Tourists have stayed in Cowichan Bay for the scenery only, were not interested in fishing, and stated they were very tired of the U.S.A. thirty-mile straight roads, where many bursting tires cause the collisions and death to many tourists. The latter look for scenery, not logged-off land and black stumps.

Now for the cure. The Government own land which was bought to straighten and lower the grade of Buena Vista Hill, and would not have done so unless advised by their own engineers. Cowichan Bay Road can be made a good road if underdrained and properly ditched on the upper side of same. There is plenty of rock on Tsalalham Mountain across the bay to keep those ditches from filling up, and this could be done for far less than $30,000. Now, Mr. Hawkins, do not advocate large Government expenditures. B.C. owes too much now.

P. SAUNDERS.

DEFENCE OF CANADA

Sir,—In the report of a political meeting in your newspaper of October 19 you quote Mr. Frank Hall as saying, "Small Canada enters a European war" and giving his reasons against so doing. To be perfectly honest, the real question is, can Canada at present fight anything, except with hot air and platitudes? Anyone who knows the Germans and some other nations fairly well as I do, would find it under their control. Why do we not have a $5000 policy for a few cents a day

DO you realize that you may obtain a $5000 20-Pay Life policy for less than 10c a day if you are under 40 years of age, and larger amounts at proportionate rates? (Over age 40 the amount is slightly increased.) You can also have other plans which may be more suitable and which require correspondingly small deposits. Think of the five and ten-cent premiums you spend last week—can you remember where they went? Of course you can't! Yet these same small amounts placed in Mutual Life of Canada policies will grow through the years to substantial sums. Money earns money for you in the Mutual Life of Canada. The company is owned by the policyholders. You share in all the profits when you own a Mutual Life policy. The company has distributed surplus earnings of $66,000,000 in dividends, has paid over $200,000,000 to beneficiaries and today has assets of over $156,000,000.

Isn't this worth investigating—can you, interesting way to save, plus life insurance protection for your wife and family? Just get in touch with the nearest branch, or write head office at Waterloo for full details.

furnish the prototype for the "new world order" with which we are threatened.

During the 254 years of that kingdom there were seven dynasties, nineteen kings—seven of them regents—ruling through slaughter to a throne. The nation—a beastly and idolatrous race, hurling their own offspring into the ignominious embrace of the incandescent arms of their idol Moloch, while drums beat and trumpets blared to drown the screams of the innocent victims. One unending Saturnalia of crime and cruelty, of idolatry and debauchery! And this regime, we are told, is our theocratic model! God forbid!

MILL RATE IN OAK BAY

Sir,—On examination of his tax notice for 1936 in this municipality (Oak Bay) the ratepayer was no doubt surprised to notice that, while the mill rate had been reduced by 1/4 mill, his tax was raised. That is to say, the mill rate in this municipality does not fairly represent taxation.

There are three ways by which the mill rate may be lowered: (1) by over-assessment; (2) by increasing the percentage of improvement values taken for taxation; and (3) imposing taxes which are not included in the mill rate. In Oak Bay all these means are taken to produce a supposititious mill rate.

(1) That there is over-assessment of property, as a rule, there can be no doubt. In The Colonist of February last it was reported "In a few instances reductions were made by the court, which consisted of the whole council. In other cases it was felt that the assessments were such that, in justice to near-by owners of property, the reductions sought could not be granted and the assessments remain equitable." In plain language, that means that as the whole district, where the property is situated, had been over-assessed, the adjustment asked for could not be granted except by a revision of all the assessments.

(2) The ratepayer will have noticed that the amount of assessment on improvements taken for taxation for 1936 is increased from 40 per cent to 45 per cent, thus allowing the fictitious mill rate to be reduced from 26 mills to 25-1/2 mills. We now come to taxation that is not included at all in fixing the mill rate—the frontage rate. In the case of the property best known to me, this rate is slightly over 9,000 mills. Is it correct to say that our tax rate is only 25-1/2 mills with this 9,000 mills omitted?

In dealing with over-assessment in Oak Bay, there can be no doubt that it amounts to one-quarter of the improvements, to say nothing of the high price set on lots. When six-room bungalow is assessed at $4,500 in 1935 and $4,440 in 1936 (note the allowance of $60 for depreciation) with $650 for lot (total $5,090 in 1936). It is evident that there is a great difference between a sale price and the value set for taxation purposes. But even with the assessment on improvements as it is, with frontage rates added the mill rate would be over 28 mills compared with the present 25-1/2; but reducing the assessment on im-sum on re-roofing, etc. What happened? The usual amount allowed for depreciation was cut out and $200 added to the value of improvements for assessment. Could anything worse than this have happened in the much derided and debt-laden city of Victoria?

By way of comparison, I give the following. In 1920 (sixteen years ago) the tax on a six-room house, with garage and two lots, in Oak Bay, was $42.20, and in 1936 the tax on a six-room semi-bungalow without garage and one lot is $76.64.

and, strange to say, the mill rates for the two years 1920 and 1936 are "practically identical" (25 and 25-1/2).

Evidently, by manipulation of one kind and another, the mill rate can be kept at any desirable point.
